PROFILE

Hey I'm Sabir Ali, a skilled full-stack developer with expertise in the MERN stack (MongoDB, Express.js, React, Node.js) & Next.js. I have completed my training at NexcusBerry Training & Solution in Lahore, where I honed my skills in building scalable, high-performance web applications. I am proficient in designing and implementing user-friendly interfaces, managing robust backend systems, and deploying cloud-based solutions. With a strong focus on delivering customized, client-centric solutions, I am adept at collaborating within agile teams to create impactful digital products.
